

Code of Conduct

There is no place for discrimination in our counselling center.

Whether as a client, employee, visitor, or volunteer - together we create a place of openness, diversity and respect.

That's why all women are welcome here, regardless of:

- appearance and body
- origin and nationality
- sexual orientation
- assigned gender
- (dis)ability and disease
- age
- educational background
- family and marital situation
- religion and beliefs
- financial situation

In recognition of the diversity in people, we expect any interaction to be appreciative, considerate and supportive.

To ensure this, we reserve us the right to exercise our housekeeping authority and domestic authority in the event of disrespectful behavior.

If you feel disrespected or discriminated against, you can confidently contact the complaints office.
